Gen. Sanguliy Returns to Cuba to Fight.

A DEADLY PLAGUE IN DAVIES COUNTY.

Frankfort, April 3.—As to the probable result of the senatorial fight all is yet mere matter of speculation. No vote was taken today, except a formal vote of one for each candidate, no quorum being present. Whether the contest will be continued in behalf of Dr. Hunter next week or not is matter of grave doubt. There is no doubt that a number of Republicans who have supported him thus far as the caucus nominee now feel that the time has come when he should be dropped for some Republican on whom the party can unite. Whether such an one can be found is a question of some difficulty. It is probable it will be harder now to unite all the Republicans in favor of any man than it would have been at the beginning of the session, as more or less friction has been engendered.

REFINERIES TO RESUME.

All Philadelphia Factories to Run With Full Force.

Philadelphia, April 3.—Owing to the strong condition of the refined sugar market, by Monday every refinery in the city will be running with a full force on regular time, which means employment for about 2,000 persons.

Nearly half a million tons of raw sugars are now en route by vessels from Germany, the East Indies, Egypt, South America and the West India islands.

A DEADLY PLAGUE.

Twelve Persons Die Within a Week in Davies County.

Whitesville, April 3.—In the neighborhood in this county known as Redfish Creek a deadly disease prevails which baffles the skill of the best physicians and threatens to decimate the country. Within a week no less than twelve persons have died and the physicians are unable to diagnose the disease.

NO HOPE.

Higher Water for the Lower Mississippi.

Jackson, Miss., April 3.—The last hope is gone for saving the lowlands protected by the Mississippi levees. The waters continue to rise and reports indicate they will do so for days to come. A ready a vast territory is inundated and with further breaks in the levee, which seem inevitable, it seems impossible that any portion of the lowlands should escape.

GEN. RIVERA NOT KILLED.

His Court-Martial Trial Now In Progress.

Havana, April 3.—A report sent out from Key West to the effect that Gen. Rivera was shot at sunrise this morning is untrue. The trial by court martial of Gen. Rivera is being proceeded with behind closed doors at San Cristobal.

THE OXFORDS WIN.

In the Boat Race With Cambridge This Morning.

London, April 3.—In the annual boat race between Oxford and Cambridge colleges, which took place this morning on the Thames, the gallant Oxfores came off easy winners amidst the plaudits of thousands of spectators.

New Orleans in Good Shape.

St. Louis, April 3.—The river here is 17.5, being influenced somewhat by the tide. The levees protecting this city are reported in excellent condition, and arrangements have been made with the railroad companies for moving material and men promptly to any threatened point.

Louisiana Levee Broken.

Raceland, La., April 3.—During the night the levee in front of the Leblanc property, four miles below Lockport, on the left bank of bayou Lafourche, gave way and is now 100 feet in width. The strain all along the bayou has been relaxed to a great extent owing to the crevasse. The fall here has been one foot since its occurrence.

GEN. JULIO SAOGUILLY

Takes His Life in His Hand and Again Goes to Cuba.

Jacksonville, Fla., April 2.—Gen. Julio Sanguliy, who was secretly smuggled into this city by the Cuban Junta Wednesday night, succeeded in getting away tonight for Cuba. Since arriving here Gen. Sanguliy has kept from the public, and his presence even was denied by the Cuban leaders. This was because five Spanish spies had learned of Gen. Sanguliy's intended arrival here, and were on the lookout for him. He succeeded in evading them tonight, where he boarded a train bound for Miami. It is understood that he will go to the western end of the island in Pinar Del Rio Province and assume charge of the army formerly commanded by Gen. Rivera, now a prisoner.

When it was rumored that Sanguliy was here, scores thronged about Cuban headquarters, but the leaders denied his presence and would give no information on the subject. This was because the Spanish spies were watching the headquarters, and following every one who might lead to the famous patriot's hiding place. The spies camped around different houses, where they thought he might be, but the Cubans stole a march by putting him in a room close to a well-known Spanish resident, where no spy would think of looking. He escaped late this evening, and took the fast train for Miami. It is stated that a swift-sailing yacht is there ready to take him over to the island.

A visit tonight to the places where Sanguliy was supposed to be concealed showed five contented Spanish spies lounging around the corners, watching a house where they believed him to be.

Sanguliy is reported to be in good health and spirits, and eager to strike a blow for Cuba Libre.

GREECE BOUND TO WIN.

On Declaration of War Blockade Would End.

Athens, April 3.—Whether, in the event of war, the Powers will abstain from a blockade and leave the Greek fleet unfettered, is debated here with great interest. It is pointed out that, should war ensue, the Powers could not, as neutrals, hinder the operations of the Greek navy, which might bombard Smyrna and Salonica and capture the islands of the Aegean.

In case the Turks should be victorious on land, which is not expected at Athens, Greece would be more than compensated by victories of the sea. It is assumed, of course, that Europe would never permit the Turkish army to advance to Athens. Thus, whatever happens, Greece stands to win; at any rate, not to lose. These calculations would be completely overthrown should the Powers compel the Greek fleet to remain inactive. But this course, it is contended here, would be tantamount to an offensive alliance with Turkey against Greece.

A number of Italian volunteers have arrived here from Crete, having safely run the blockade. They say there is no bread in the island except in the camp of Gen. Vassos, which is provisioned for three months. The insurgents are not organized, but consist of bands of armed peasants, who leave their homes for a day or two during active operations.

SURPRISED BY A FILIBUSTER.

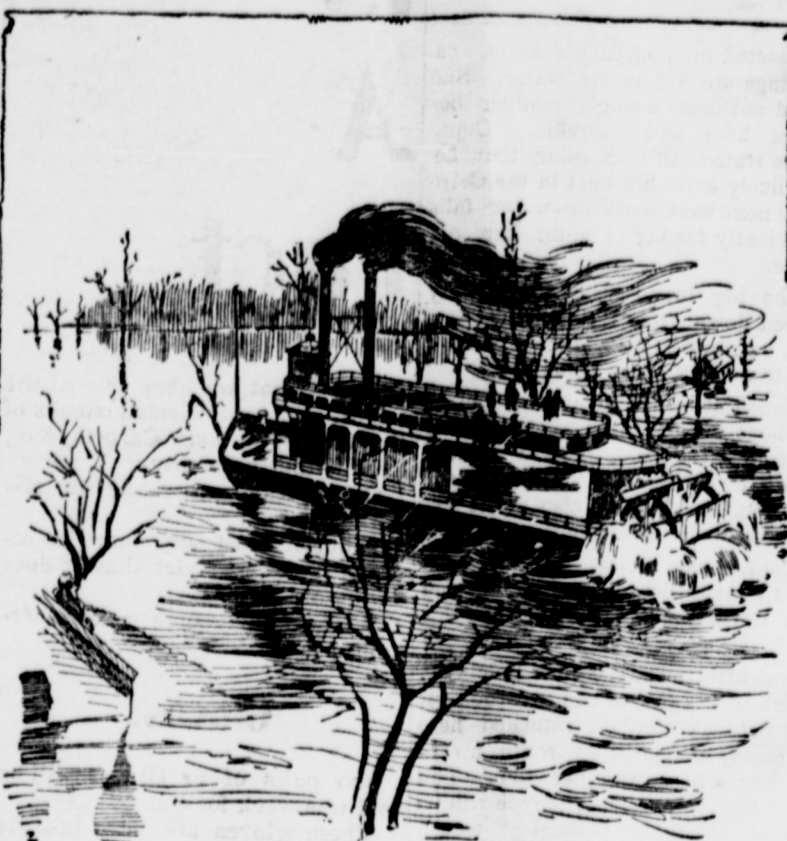

Replied With a Shot and Disabled a Spanish Gunboat.

Jacksonville, Fla., April 3.—Advices from Havana state that a telegram has been received there from Trinidad stating that the captain of the Spanish gunboat Portos states that his vessel was fired on by filibustering steamer on the southwest coast last week. He sighted the vessel near land, and shortly afterward discovered it was landing supplies, a large body of Cubans being discerned on the beach. Steaming within range, he began firing at the filibuster, when, to his surprise, she replied briskly with two guns. A chance shot from the filibustering steamer disabled one of his steam drums and his vessel lay helpless on the water for nearly half a day. The filibustering steamer, noticing the fact, leisurely landed her cargo and then steamed out of the harbor easterly, making a long detour so as to escape coming near Cuba. The Spanish officials are wrathful over the report, and an investigation has been ordered.

WORSE AND STILL WORSE

The Flood Situation in the South Land Grows.

LEEVE BREAKS CONTINUE.

St. Francis Now Threatens Helena, Arkansas.

JACKSON, MISSISSIPPI, ALARMED

Memphis, Tenn., April 3.—The flood situation has once more become acute from a point a few miles above Austin, Miss., as far down as the first break at Perthshire, Miss., and a crevasse in this line of levees would not be surprising. The pressure on the levee is brought about by the waters of the St. Francis basin which is congested between the levees in front of Helena. There is no levee on the Arkansas side from Sams, Sonet to a point above Helena, a distance of 100 miles, and it is at Austin that the levee system on each side of the river begins and goes to the passes below New Orleans.

The waters are now so high in the St. Francis basin that the current rushes from the west and cuts along the east shore levee for miles and several alarming telegrams have been received from near Austin today and the situation is most grave. Boats have been requested to run on slow bells, and laborers are constantly strengthening the embankments. A crevasse at Austin would inundate a strip of fertile country in Tunica and Coahoma counties, twenty miles wide and sixty miles long.

Reports from Helena, Ark., show that the river there is still slowly rising, and it is almost miraculous that the levees at Helena have not been swept away. Thousands of people have been working day and night and their energies are seemingly exhausted.

The Missouri Pacific and Cotton Belt have rushed trainload after trainload of sacked sand into the beleaguered city and still stand ready to help the Helena people. The railroads have rendered great assistance to the levee boards. The Illinois Central, Missouri Pacific and Cotton Belt railways have devoted all their great forces to work of saving the country, and that without charge. Greenville is on an island and Rosedale, Miss., is in water from five to ten feet deep. The funds of a bank in Rosedale have been moved to the second story. Thousands of head of cattle are standing on the levee, and many unfortunate refugees sleep there with no covering to protect them from the water-soaked winds of night.

Back of Rosedale and throughout the lower and middle Delta country everything is under water. In many villages no communication with the outside world has been had for several days.

The threatened rise at Cairo is now a certainty. The Mississippi above Cairo and the Cumberland and Tennessee rivers will send a great flood into the already filled St. Francis basin, and from Cairo to Memphis it is feared that the deluge will mark a high water figure that will be without a precedent. At Memphis the river is slowly falling tonight, the gauge reading 36.3 feet, a fall of one-tenth of a foot since last night.

The calls for assistance from numerous points along the river are becoming more and more frequent at the headquarters of the relief committee in Memphis. The committee is in receipt of information to the effect that there are some fifteen or twenty white people, principally women and children, in great distress at a point near St. Clair's Landing, about fifteen miles up the river, which is some six miles from Mound City. These people are located in houses, the lower floors of which are overflowed, and they have no food and no means of obtaining it. Arrangements were made to send supplies.

DANGER LINE REACHED.

People in St. Louis and Vicinity Warned of a Flood.

St. Louis, April 3.—The heavy rains of the past two days are having an effect on the streams tributary to the Mississippi and Missouri rivers in Iowa, Illinois, Missouri and Kansas. As a result they are pouring torrents into these rivers and flooding the lowlands through which they flow, causing considerable damage, but, as far as known, no casualties. Weather Observer Frankfield has warned people on this side of the river and in East St. Louis, whose places are in danger of being flooded, that the danger line will be reached within the next forty-eight hours. In addition, the warnings were also sent to Clarksville, Canton, Lagrange and Louisiana, Mo., and Quincy, Alton and Grafton, Ill., apprising them of the expected rise. Mr. Frankfield says the two points where the greatest danger will exist for the next twenty-four hours are Hannibal, Mo., and Quincy, Ill.

WAS IT MURDER?

A Recent Tragedy Recalled to Mind.

CREMATION AT ANTIOCH CHURCH

It is Now Thought That the Unknown Victim's Identity is Disclosed.

BELIEVED TO BE JACOB KEIPER.

The mystery that envelops the terrible death of an unknown man in Antioch church, near Florence Station, a few weeks ago, on a Saturday night, may yet be dispelled. It is now thought that the identity of the man has been discovered, and interested persons are busily working on the case.

The supposed name of the man is Jacob Keiper, an old German farm hand who was expected at the farm of Henry Kertz, a son of Mr. Jacob Kertz, of 317 South Fifth street, this city. This old man, if the poor fellow were he, had for years worked on Jacob May's farm, near Nashville, Ill. Years ago he in some manner bound himself to May to pay off an obligation of some sort, and in time is said to have become virtually a slave, and was not permitted even to write to any of his relatives, who soon almost forgot him.

A few months ago his debt was paid in full, and he left. He had previously signified an intention of coming to this county to work for Mr. Kertz, a son-in-law of his uncle, of whom he had heard last summer through a young man of Illinois who, while making a bicycle tour of this locality, stopped over with Mr. Kertz.

It has been several weeks since he left Nashville, and he departed on foot. No one knows anything of his route after he left there, but he had for several days been expected by Mr. Kertz.

This old German, who was illiterate and very simple in his manners, had his ears pierced, and wore small gold ear-rings. Two or three fingers on one of his hands were cut off years ago in a threshing machine.

The pierced ears and the missing fingers correspond precisely with the black-and-white corpse found in the little church. The only difference was that the corpse had no ear-rings. But Keiper may have disposed of these while on his tramp, or he may have been robbed of them. Who knows?

The most startling feature of the case, however, is that those who are investigating it believe the inoffensive old man was murdered.

Any of the residents of Florence station who were inside the church the morning after the ghastly discovery was made in the slowly burning structure will attest the fact that there were evidence of a struggle, there was blood on the floor, and the distorted remains, although burned on some portions until they were entirely unrecognizable, were in a corner of the church several feet from the fire.

Then two tramps were seen going away early that Sunday morning just about the time the church was discovered to be on fire, and one man and his wife who live near the church, now have an indistinct remembrance of hearing cries some time before day.

As to the appearance of the ancient German, this is given by the gentleman who gave him a quilt and saw him before he went in to be cremated. The description tallies exactly with that of Keiper, the only thing that cannot be reconciled is that the tramp informed the gentleman when he asked for the quilt that he was bent on reaching New Orleans, when Keiper's destination was Florence Station. He may have given New Orleans, however, to make his case more appealing.

The age, almost unintelligible German accent, pierced ears, amputated fingers and locality, however, all indicate strongly that the unfortunate wretch burned in the little church was Keiper, whether he was first murdered or not.

In regard to his having been murdered, no motive has yet been found. The old man may have possessed money he had hoarded, by saving a pittance now and then, and this may have impelled casual companions to take his life and attempt to conceal

WRITTEN AT RANDOM.
All Fools Day, at a certain North Side fashionable boarding house, two young gentlemen boarded went into the hall, rang the telephone bell, and a young lady, who is at present residing in Paducah, that a young gentleman desired to speak to her over the telephone.
She made a hasty exit and after several times, the young gentleman called "April Fool," which was much to the amusement of the young lady. The young lady accepted her discomfiture with good grace, but then and there promised to play a trick on him.
The next day, at the same time, a telegram at their respective places of business, which was a certain lawyer's office, where one of the young gentlemen was, in a regular manner, after the charges of 25 cents.
Each young gentleman was, perfectly well as expected, but paid over the requisite amount and with trembling hands to open the yellow envelope. The words written on the telegram were:
"You are wanted at the telephone. It will cost you 25 cents for my walk to the phone."
It was the young lady's time to laugh and the young man was now satisfied that sometimes April Fool jokes are unprofitable. The young lady, however, has the 50 cents to keep as a souvenir. She had the telegram written on blank telegraph forms, just as if they had been received, and persuaded a couple of neighbor boys to deliver them and collect charges.

A joke is going the rounds that illustrates, not particularly how unsophisticated some people are, but more especially how infinitely unable most people are to keep up with up-to-date expressions.
Gip Husbands has for some time past been electing for his father Col. L. D. Husbands, who is a great office for circuit judge. A great many people he has approached have replied, "Well, now, Gip, I'm for the Colonel, and I'll stand by him, but you'll have to come up with the clean thing."
Gip heard this expression so often that he was determined to find out what it meant. So yesterday he sauntered into the city hall when few were about and calling Marshal Collins aside, glanced furtively about until he was satisfied that no one was near and then asked in a confidential tone, "Say, Jim, I want you to tell me what 'coming up with the clean thing' means. I've heard it so often, and I want to know what the people mean when they tell me to 'come up with the clean thing.'"
Marshal Collins, who is authority in all such matters, gave him the desired information, and according to reports, Gip crossed over to his father's office and declared, "Pa, I guess you'll have to turn loose some dough in this campaign."

In a neighboring city is a police officer who, according to reports, can neither read nor write. Whenever he hires himself away to arrest any of the young men for indulging too freely of local option booze, they think to frustrate his designs by demanding that he read the warrant. The return he invariably makes is "I cannot read a d—n—t come and I go with me!" This expression is now famous in the city alluded to.

Those candidates who are jubilant tonight over their nomination will next November be correspondingly depressed over their overwhelming defeat. The Democratic party is a dead cock in the pit, especially in this neck o' woods.

We have it from excellent authority, says the Cairo "Argus" that John A. Miller has been induced to stand as an independent candidate for mayor, and that his formal announcement will be made today or tomorrow. There is good mayoralty timber in Mr. Miller. He is honest and independent, and is apt to follow his convictions. He is not of the material that makes serviceable tools for designing men or jobbers, nor that sycophants are made of. He is too much of a man to be moved except by appeals to his reason. There are other excellent men in the city who would make efficient officials in the mayor's chair, but when canvassing honestly for good and worthy men to fill that seat, Mr. Miller can not be overlooked.

The gentleman mentioned above was formerly a resident of Paducah, and has many friends here who still pleasantly remember him.

It will be a source of great satisfaction to the people of Paducah to learn that the Democratic cause is primary is over, and that it will probably be several weeks, or until the city primary, before the "election bugs" begin to crowd the street corners again, like carrion birds, waiting for a candidate, impeding travel and retarding business all day long and far into the night. It is regretted that the authorities did not disperse the befooled nuisances and thus prevent some very disgraceful public spectacles. A great many ladies have been kept off the streets during the past few days because of the half-drunken men that crowded the corners. Yet the "bugs" did not obstruct the sidewalk, in the opinion of the authorities. Oh no, they did nothing of the sort! But if Mike Redd had moved his peanut stand one inch on the sidewalk he would have been pulled quicker than one of the parasites would take a drink at the expense of some one else.

Best Spring Remedy
PAIN'S CEDERY COMPOUND.
There is one true specific for diseases arising from impure blood and a debilitated nervous system, and that is Paine's cedery compound, so generally prescribed by physicians. It is probably the most remarkable remedy that the scientific research of this country has produced. Pro. Edward E. Phelps, M. D., LL. D., of Dartmouth college, first prescribed what he now knows the world over as Paine's cedery compound, a positive cure for dyspepsia, biliousness, liver complaint, neuralgia, rheumatism, all nervous diseases, and kidney troubles. For the latter, cedery compound has succeeded again and again where everything else has failed.

HINTS FOR THE HOUSEHOLD.
Short Suggestions That May Be of Value.
An ornament for a nursery window that will be of interest to the children, as they can prepare it and watch its growth, is a turkey-colored paper cut out at the root end and suspended by ribbons in a sunny window. Fill it with wet earth and sprinkle with oats or other seeds that sprout readily. The lower part of the vegetable will soon shoot forth green sprays that will grow up around it. The little cover will be to see that the earth is kept wet.
To keep a spoon in position when desirous of dropping medicine into it, and requiring both hands to hold the spoon and cork, place the spoon between the leaves of a closed book lying upon a table.
Custards, creams, or any dishes that are to be frozen or iced require to be made with an extra amount of sugar and seasoning, for the process of freezing takes out part of the sweetness and flavors.
Soft paper or old newspapers crumpled up and made soft with the hands are more effective for the polishing of mirrors, windows and picture glass than any other material.
If the vases and saucers are occasionally rubbed over with paraffine oil they will retain their brightness longer.
Do not avoid the matter when arranging colored pictures for a dinner table with ribbons, satin, gauzes, or tulle and natural blossoms. Have a careful eye and a sparing hand, or the table will look as if one had utilized an old ball costume for decoration.
A source of annoyance may be succeeded by a cord in a window. Dampen the sponge and sprinkle with grass, clover, mustard or flax seed. Before many days the sponge will be a pretty ball of living green. The sponge must be kept wet when the window is closed, and when the window is open, the grass grows brown in spots, pull it off and sprinkle the place with fresh seeds.
Another way is to cut a piece of flannel of the size of a saucer, or the middle part of a plate. Sprinkle the flannel with seeds, place on the window and keep it damp with water. The flannel will quickly become a mat of green. Many children will enjoy watching the growth of these seeds from day to day better than playing with expensive toys.
Lain children are less liable to be affected by the changes of the temperature and to break if they are boiled before being used. Run a little hay or straw around the chimney, put in a pan containing cold water, and place over the fire. Allow the water to boil ten minutes, then put the pan to one side and let the glass remain in water until it is again perfectly cold.
New or pure white lines that are to be used with a lace that is creamy or yellowed by age should be held a few minutes in the steam from boiling coffee, and then carefully laid upon a flat surface until perfectly dry. Lace thus treated will be found to have taken on an antique creamy look.
To remove rust from steel articles wash them with kerosene for oil and let them soak 24 hours. Make a paste of emery dust and kerosene and rub this on with rottenstone. N. Y. Sun.

INDULGENCE DEMANDED.
The Triumph That Shattered a Philistine.
The elderly Washington gentleman whose years do not lessen a genial interest in the affairs of life had an unfortunate swerve in his gait as he came into the house. His wife observed it immediately. "There you are standing in this manner," she merely said, "the butter at dinner which suggested the thought, 'Indulgence demanded.'"
"Richard," his wife said, "I hope you have not forgotten that pride goes before a fall."
"My dear," was the reply, "I am perfectly familiar with that admonition. And I have reason to fear that in my case it applies as literal as well as in a figurative sense. But I can't help it."
"You are not usually this way."
"I am not," replied the gentleman, "but I was gratified at the head of my class in college I was as much and as proud as the last man on the lot. When I was elected to office and ran away ahead of my ticket, I could have defied anybody to accuse me of showing the least elation. When I went into my first big business I endeavored to bear myself with the same philosophy which I should have felt was proper in defeat. When I got my picture in the paper as a leading citizen in my community I could have defied anybody to accuse me of showing the least pride. I was just taken by a London newspaper, I then Terry and Adeline Patti came next, followed by the countess of Warwick and Lady Henry Somerset."
—M. Oskiers of Paris, who recently bought the Castle of Malmaison, is having every room in it carefully restored. Among the best known rooms are Napoleon's study, billiard room and drawing-room and the room in which Empress Josephine died. La Petite Malmaison, where Josephine had her greenhouses, has already been restored by Count de Barri, brother of the king of Naples.

"WINDY" GOT LICKED

Concluded to Whip John Tatum
But Failed to Do It.

This Morning's Proceedings of the Police Court.

John Tatum and "Windy" Thompson had a fight last night. Tatum was talking to Brown, the fish merchant, when Thompson walked up and mentioned the fact that he didn't know anything about it if there was, and if he had done anything wrong he begged to be excused. Thompson replied that he believed he would just whip him for fun, but made a signal failure.

Three times did Tatum knock him down and completely vanquish him, but every time Frank Haffey and George Garvey pulled him off to give Thompson another chance. Tatum finally left and at the instance of Prosecuting Attorney Reeves the warrant against him was dismissed in the police court this morning.

Thompson was fined $5 and costs. Dallas Eskridge, colored, was charged with jumping on and off Illinois Central trains and fined $5 and costs.

Tip Waynick was charged with striking Sam Herbst and calling him disparaging names. He said the altercation started as a joke, and both got mad because they "buzzed" each other. He was fined $1 and costs.

THE DEMOCRATIC PRIMARY.

It Passed Off Very Quietly
Today.

The Polls Were Not Crowded, But the Usual Vote Was Cast.

The battle of ballots proceeded quietly enough today, and the scenes and spectacles on the streets were distinctly different from those of yesterday and several preceding days.

The polls at no time during the day were crowded, and there was little or no disorder.

The rain this afternoon may have prevented some of the country people from voting, but it was not much of a drawback to city voters.

The result of the primary cannot of course even be approximated until late tonight, after all of the ballots have been counted.

THE RIVER.

Some Anticipate More High Water.

But at Present the River Continues
Rapidly to Decline.

Some of the old river men were predicting more high water this morning, but others claim that the decline is too rapid to justify such a dire apprehension.

The Mississippi is rising at St. Louis but falling at Cairo, and according to this morning's bulletin at the boat store the Wabash and Tennessee are rising, but the Cumberland is reported falling. A big rise is expected in Salt River.

The fall at this point has been at the rate of half an inch an hour. About noon a heavy rainfall, which was predicted by the weather bureau, began and lasted for some time.

FIGHT IN "CANAN."

A Colored Apple Vender Licks
a Gang of Gypsies.

Was Arrested This Afternoon and Taken to the Lockup.

James McCuen, a colored apple vender, was arrested about noon by Officer Barnhart on a breach of the peace charge and turned over to Officer Sutherland at the Union Depot, who lodged him in the lockup.

McCuen is charged with routing a whole camp of gypsies up near "Canan," in Mechanicsburg. He claims that he had been imposed on at various times by the gypsies and yesterday when attacked made an effort to defend himself. He is charged in the warrant with striking David Boswell and Jane Lowell and knocking the latter down. Joshua Lowell, husband of the woman, swore out the warrant.

This afternoon McCuen went before Judge Sanders and swore out a warrant against James Lovell and David Boswell, charging them with assaulting him.

LOOKING FOR BURGLARS.

J. D. McNeely Broke Into the Lockup.

He Got Drunk and Carried a Pistol
Here Yesterday.

J. D. McNeely, of Boaz Station, an old gray-headed farmer, came to the city yesterday in quest of the burglars who broke into several places at Boaz night before last.

During the day he absorbed too much candidates' juice, and last night he indulged in some of the what he could do in case the whole police force should assault him. He could whip as many as four at a time, he said, and Officer Barnhart, unassisted, encountered no difficulty in taking him to the city hall.

When he was searched a pistol was found concealed on his person. He was locked up for drunkenness and carrying concealed a deadly weapon. The case was called in the police court this morning, but the defendant was not ready for trial. Judge Sanders said that while McNeely's mission was one in which he, perhaps, needed a pistol, the law gave him no right to carry one, although the facts would go in mitigation of any fine or judgment, and probably assist him in securing a pardon and remission of fine.

The case was continued until Tuesday and McNeely was released on a $50 bond.

HOW IT HAPPENED.

Metropolis Democrat Tells Why
Haffey Was Released.

He Was Given Undue Liberties by the Prison Officers, It Seems.

Judge Sanders, of Paducah, charges the Metropolis officers with a breach of trust, and took occasion a few days ago to give them a "round roasting" in regard to the Haffey case, claims the Metropolis Democrat.

Haffey was locked up here for drunkenness, and it developed later that he was wanted in Paducah for stealing a skiff, which he sold in this city, and a warrant was sent here to be served. The warrant shows that it was served by Policemen Oakes, but Haffey seems to have been given unusual liberties by parties who had him in charge and made his escape.

Marshal Crounch was away at the time and naturally feels a little "sore" over Judge Sanders' general charge.

GOOD FOR OLIVER

Allard Says He Will Give Himself a Divorce.

Oliver Allard was a caller this morning, and requests us to state that he has forever divorced himself from drink, says the Metropolis Democrat. He commends the action of his friends in having a conservator appointed, and hopes to show his appreciation of their solicitude by his future conduct.

If Oliver sticks to this he may yet come out on top.

A GRAVE CHARGE.

Henry Ridgeway, Colored, Warranted For Seduction.

Charged With Leading Astray
Lulu Donalds, a Girl 15
Years of Age.

Henry Ridgeway, a colored youth eighteen years of age, who lives near the L. C. yards, was warranted this forenoon by Judge Sanders on a charge of seduction. The girl is Lulu Donalds, and she is but fifteen years of age.

She was taken before Judge Sanders this morning and made an affidavit, saying that she was seduced five months ago by Ridgeway, who promised to marry her. She is now in a delicate condition and Ridgeway refuses to marry her. She was accompanied by her father.

Officers Crow and Eiter were sent out this afternoon to arrest Ridgeway, and he will doubtless be in custody when this reaches the public.

RAILROAD RUMBLINGS.

Items of Interest Relative to the Railroads and Railroad
People.

N. C. and ST. L. MILEAGE.

Local was several hours late arriving last night, a rush of work causing the delay.

Jim Hood will shake the bunting at Sixth and Norton streets crossing, while "Mileage" goes to Shiloh.

Frank Turner, the diamond heaver on the 310, is off for a trip or so, a large rising on his arm accounts for it.

One shipment of forty cars of flour leaves Memphis today for Augusta, Ga. It takes two engines to get over the road.

Engine 12, with Sam Lowe on the box, doubled back last evening. Guess Sam will sleep without rocking when he gets to Memphis.

"Mileage's" thanks are hereby returned to the Daily Sun for a large pack of visiting cards. They are a beautiful specimen of the exquisite work turned out in their job office.

Mr. Thomas Johnston, a brother of Dispatcher Harry Johnston, arrived last night on a visit to the latter, who was agreeably surprised, as he had not seen him for about fifteen years.

Al Watson, the old reliable porter with Conductor Tom Piles, came in last night with a bundle of late papers he presented to "Mileage." Al visited the camp of the flood sufferers at Memphis last trip and details their pitiable condition with much feeling.

Engineer James Spence dead headed in on 103 last night. He raises steam on the steam shovel today, and on Monday will be to Whitlock where a trestle is to be filled in, starting the shovel to work again gives employment to some twelve or fifteen more men.

Mr. W. A. Henderson, the stock claim agent, who only arrived from an extended visit to his Michigan home a few days ago, was recalled there on yesterday by a telegram announcing the dying condition of his daughter, Rosa. He lost another daughter last summer and has the sympathy of all in his bereavement.

"Mileage" will not be heard from for the next week in this column. He leaves this afternoon on the steamer Clyde to participate in the Blue and Gray reunion on the old battle grounds of Shiloh. His mission now is far different from his intentions on his first visit there in 1862. Then he was bent on annihilating every man who wore the blue, but now he goes with a genuine respect for and to clasp hands fraternally with his opponents of that bygone bloody time, and to scatter beautiful flowers over the last resting places of their lamented dead and his own.

Away back in the 70's when Mr. Thomas Walsh was the master mechanic in the shops at Memphis, the L. & N. changed the name of the road to L. & N. and Great Southern. When Mr. Walsh received the order to have the lettering on the cars changed he went into the paint shops and said to Bob Gray, the foreman: "Bob, I want you to put hell and hen and Gt. hess and har on the cars." Mr. Walsh is still in the employ of the L. & N. and is the efficient master mechanic at shops at Howell, Ind., but as in the old days he uses the cockney accent.

I heard of Dr. Bell's Pine Tar Honey, and seeing many recommendations from different persons, of its wonderful valuable merits, I thought I would try a bottle. I have been seriously affected for twenty-five years with a cough and pains in my side and breast that were causing me a miserable life. I spent hundreds of dollars with doctors and for medicine, but everything failed until I found this wonderful remedy. It heats the world and has saved my life. I recommend Dr. Bell's Pine Tar Honey to everybody with weak lungs. It is a great success. J. B. Russell, Gransburg, Ill.
